Re: Litigation By The Numbers

Dear Ms. Goren:

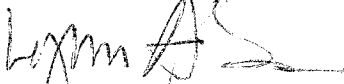

I just wanted to take a moment to let you know how much I rely on "Litigation By The Numbers" in my litigation practice. I have been a construction litigator for over 27 years and there is one thing that I have learned and that is how important it is for the attorney to be knowledgeable concerning deadlines, forms and formats and not rely solely on support staff or more experienced attorneys. I know that a lot of attorneys rely on their secretaries to keep track of this information but I have spoken to many attorneys who have horror stories of losing a secretary and finding themselves lost and unable to function. I have also heard many stories of the time and effort that it takes to train a new secretary. Your book is such a valuable tool.

Your book is a great resource for a new secretary that wants easy access to information, for a new attorney that wants to make sure that his or her work is filed properly and is tired of asking for help, the sole practitioner that does a lot of his or her own work and the seasoned litigator that does not want to solely rely on support staff to make sure that all deadlines are met. Your book is affordable, easy to use and is kept current with all of your updates.

I know that I can go look up the information contained in your book but it saves me so much time to have one book with all of the information that I need. Even when I think that I know what the rules and deadlines are, it is so easy to confirm that I'm right by just referring to your book. When I'm right, it makes me feel good to know that my memory is still pretty good. When your book shows that I'm wrong, it makes me feel good to know that I was smart enough to buy your book!

Please keep up the good work. Again, thank you for a great addition to my law practice.
